THE TRAIN

EL TRANSCANTÁBRICO GRAN UJO

Those who step on board the Transcantábrico Gran Lujo embark on a journey back in time to the 1920s, when the historic Pullman carriages that now serve as its lounges first operated. Together with the suites, they form a veritable five-star hotel on rails, with services and comforts that meet the most demanding expectations. The entire train, both cabins and common areas, is internally connected, allowing passengers to move about freely.

Spacious 12.82m² suites decorated in wood, comprising a lounge, bedroom, and private bathroom, and adorned with exclusive details. Their generous layout features a comfortable double bed (1.50 m x 2.00 m) or twin single beds (0.85 m x 2.00 m), a wardrobe, luggage storage, a desk, a safe, and a minibar, as well as the most advanced comforts including LED screens, a music tuner, adjustable climate control, a multimedia computer with complimentary internet access, and an internal telephone. They also include a lounge area with a sofa that converts into a bed, large picture windows, and a private bathroom—spacious and comfortable—with a hydro-massage shower/steam sauna, a hairdryer, and a varied set of top-category welcome amenities.

LIFE ON BOARD

Imagine a luxury train where you can enjoy and relax for eight days and seven nights (or four days and three nights with the new mini-journeys), making it your lounge, your transport, your meeting place, your restaurant, your bedroom, or your dance floor. A place where each day you will wake up in a different location with unique landscapes, all viewed from the comfort of your suite or from any of our evocative lounges.

During the day, whilst we are on our excursions, we recommend comfortable clothing and footwear. In the evening, you may opt for more formal attire.

After dinner, you can enjoy an evening of leisure. Each night there are live performances or dancing on board. You may also choose to have a more relaxed drink in another of the lounge cars, take a stroll through the town where we are stationed, or retire earlier to the privacy of your suite.

To facilitate rest, once the day's activities have concluded, the train remains stationary at the station overnight.

A journey on the Transcantábrico Gran Lujo is also a tour of the finest gastronomy of Galicia, Asturias, Cantabria, and the Basque Country, territories with renowned culinary traditions.

The exquisite à la carte breakfast is complemented by the personalised attention of our waiters. Local specialities are featured throughout the journey, ensuring each day begins in a different and original way at the table, too.

For lunches and dinners, dining on board in the train's elegant lounges is alternated with a selection of the finest restaurants. An appetising culinary proposal, complemented by the finest wines from the Denominations of Origin of northern Spain.

The entire crew of the Transcantábrico Gran Lujo is at your disposal twenty-four hours a day, trained to offer personalised service in several languages. The team is led by an Expedition Leader, who will be at the helm of this rail cruise, guaranteeing a service of the highest quality both on and off the train.
